

Permaculture is an ideal research tool for teachers, students, designers, practitioners and activists alike. Sales have increased significantly in the 2020/21 lockdown, as people have sought out guidance on how to grow their own and how to successfully complete DIY projects around the home and garden. They are increasingly understanding of personal, family and community wellbeing and they care about their impacts and other species.

Permaculture is read in over 130 countries worldwide. Currently 15,000 print copies of each issue are printed and it has over 6,000 print subscribers alongside hundreds of thousands of digital readers, which includes institutional subscribers (universities, colleges, schools and libraries).

Advertising in the print and digital pages of Permaculture means you are reaching both a very targeted audience and a very responsive one. We look to build long lasting advertising and partnerships, exchanging social media and best practice.

Permaculture is a visionary magazine that will give you the tools needed to create productive and resilient homes, gardens, economies, relationships, schools, farms and communities. Our range of articles include no-dig gardening, food forests, cutting edge community projects, renewable technologies, regenerative agriculture, DIY projects, health, wellbeing and education. It is full of solutions, projects and pioneering ideas that are increasingly used by those making a difference right now, educators and the media worldwide.

Permaculture is available in WHSmith (highstreet and travel), supermarkets, newsagents and health food stores worldwide. All print subscriptions come with FREE Digital and App access to all back issues searchable by subject, so that's over 30 years of content at their fingertips ... available forever!
